WELCOME ADDRESS

The session started on its scheduled time at 7:00 p.m. with the kind permission of the Chairman, Dr. Chandrasekhar Hajra, Principal, Belda College. Dr. Saheli Chowdhury, Coordinator of the Webinar requested the Chairman to deliver his Welcome Address. Dr. Hajra began the session on a positive note with a warm welcome to the esteemed Speaker and all the participants. His address focused on the importance of Intellectual Property as vital creation of the mind and the need to enforce legal rights for preservation of its authenticity. Along the lines of the Chairman, the Convenor and the IQAC Coordinator, Dr. Rakhi Dey Sharma too recognized Intellectual Property Rights as crucial in fostering the interest of researchers and encouraging new innovations. Dr. Sharma also deliberated the relevance of understanding the IRP in relation to the NEP 2020.

PRESENTATION BY THE RESOURCE PERSON

After a brief introduction of the Speaker by the Committee, Dr. Debashis Bandyopadhyay began his deliberation. In view of the broadness of the area and the limited scope for presentation, Dr. Bandyopadhyay decided to confine his deliberation to the preliminaries of the Intellectual Property Rights. Emphasis was given on the protection of the channelized expressions of ideas, since ideas conceived within the mind alone can neither be declared as Intellectual Property nor owe its ownership to any individual. He then addressed the various aspects of Intellectual Property like its ownership, differentiability, value, transferability and amenability to litigation. He delved deep into the different categories of Intellectual Property Rights including Patents, Copyright, Trademark, Geographical Indication, Design, Layout of Circuits, Plant Variety Protection/Farmers' Rights, Traditional Knowledge/ Indigenous Knowledge. The ensuing discussion chiefly focused on the three cardinal principles of Intellectual Property Rights, namely Trademark, Patent and Copyright. The deviations in Intellectual Property Rights in case of different countries and a general harmonization of the same were also addressed. Important protocols like TRIPS, CBD, Madrid Nagoya, Berne, Rome Convention, Lisbon Agreement were briefly referred to. Dr. Bandyopadhyay offered a comprehensive view on Intellectual Property Rights through reading the declaration of TRIPS that envisioned the goals of IPR as promoting innovation, disseminating knowledge and technology to mutual advantage and socio-economical welfare, striking a balance between rights and obligation. He also threw light on the importance of strengthening Intellectual Property Rights specially in the developing countries like India which are replete with the wealth of traditional or indigenous knowledge. Dr. Bandyopadhyay's thought-provoking comments on the actual beneficiaries of Intellectual Property Rights generated new interests that would hopefully help in broadening the horizon of this engaging topic.

INTERACTIVE SESSION

The presentation of the speaker was followed by an equally fruitful interactive session. Participants appreciated the speaker's comprehensive presentation of the topic and also posed some pertinent queries. Queries on people biodiversity register and community biodiversity register were duly addressed by the speaker while also drawing attention to the lack of initiatives in building such registers in the Indian context. The session also yielded some very relevant discussion on the issue of copyright of performances produced and circulated on social media platforms.

VALEDICTORY

The webinar ended with a formal Vote of Thanks proposed by Dr. Sumit Giri. Dr. Giri profusely thanked the Speaker for his insightful deliberation. He also extended gratitude to the Chief Patron, the Chairman, all the members and the participants for making the webinar a success. With the permission of the Chair, the session was then declared as closed.

OUTCOME

The participants appreciated the enlightening deliberation of the Speaker and immensely benefitted from the session. Their spontaneous participation during the Interactive Session evinced their indulgence with the topic. And the feedback received from the participants after the webinar was positive. Most importantly, the webinar became a successful one in opening up further discussion that would surely generate more scholarly engagements on this topic in future.
